DESCRIPTION

The patented cable pulling grip with quick-release fastener has an integrated twist compensation system that compensates for any twisting of the cable in the pipe, thereby greatly reducing wear on the insertion system, the pull-in sleeve, and the cable. The quick-release fastener, an ergonomically shaped hook, enables attachment and pulling in seconds, eliminating the need for time-consuming screwing and unscrewing. The total breaking load of 200 kg has been tested on the hook, the connection pressures, the twist compensation, and the stainless steel pull-through sleeve braiding. The hook, connections, and pull-through sleeve are made of high-quality stainless steel, which prevents rusting and ensures a long service life for the cable pull-through sleeve. Instead of two conventional pull-through sleeves, the cable pull-through sleeve with quick-release fastener is sufficient. Compatible with RP5, RP1, GF3 - GF6 fiber optic rods, and RUNPOSTICKS.

Not suitable for lifting loads – use exclusively for horizontal cable pulling.

Optimal area of application: The flexible stainless steel double braid supports cables of 4 - 6 mm, 6 - 9 mm or 9 -15 mm diameter.

Scope of delivery: 1 x Cable pulling grip with quick-release fastener Ø 4 - 6 mm, Ø 6 - 9 mm or Ø 9 - 15 mm

ADVANTAGES

- Twist compensation and quick-release fastener
- 200 kg total breaking load
